Jen Burch @jenburch Sep 3

Thank you everyone for all the sweet comments. I have a long journey ahead of me. I've been diagnosed with interstitial lung disease and still testing for more. This is a direct cause & effect from the burn pits. I'm one of many #veterans battling this awful disease

Jen Burch @jenburch

Supposed to be at the @SevenPeaksFest instead I'm in Salida the hospital because of my lung issues thanks to the burn pits in #Afghanistan. This has been the most challenging year yet with breathing normally. SPO2

My son won't be home this Thanksgiving. He's paying consequences of poor choices, & his life is in a downward spiral. As a Mom, I'm heartsick, but as a Christian Mom, I'm trusting my Father to rescue His prodigal. God loves our kids even more than we do. Never forget that.

2019 was weird, I was rejected the most I have ever been, lots of early mornings 🔽, new friends & new places. It would be easy to focus on the misfortune but I'm choosing to focus on all that was achieved. The hard places often lead you to the most beautiful places,bring on 2020

WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP EVENT

Are you looking for community, connection and an opportunity for personal and professional growth? If so, this event is for you. Come join national speaker, resilience expert and founder of More Than Me, Tiffany Smiley, as she shares positivity and confidence along with More Than Me's message that together we can move mountains. You will also hear from an interactive panel of women coming from a varied cross section of leadership experience. We will discuss topics ranging from teamwork to marketing and media presentation. We can't wait to see you there. Limited tickets provided. No host bar available. Visit www.morethanme.com for more information + get your ticket at https://morethanme.vespokane.eventbrite.com

ABOUT TIFFANY

Tiffany Smiley is an author, motivational speaker, media personality and consultant, who helps others discover and harness their unique "superpower" by fearlessly confronting and overcoming life's challenges.

Her specialized approach to tackling obstacles head on has helped men and women across the world rise above the seemingly insurmountable to achieve their most ambitious goals, from entrepreneurs fiercely transforming their vision into reality to corporate executives driven by global excellence.

Daycares are affected in that before the parents dropped the kids off while going to work. Now no work nor money to pay for daycare they stay home and the daycare has no income Or someone in a kid s family got sick and now the whole daycare has to shut down, affecting all kids.

In some of my darkest, unknown moments I would wake up, thank God & have hope that things would be better someday, then I would show up everyday. Similar to today Never give up on HOPE & keep showing up even when you don't know what the outcome will be ❤️

As I continue to study/write for my upcoming book on women in the Bible I'm so moved by how Christ went right to the "least" in society and dove into their lives He clearly admonished them to turn away from sin, but He also left their dignity intact instead of destroying them

It's quite simple: every legally cast ballot should be counted. Any ballot that was cast illegally should be discarded. Let the courts decide if claims of fraud are frivolous or legitimate. Going forward, states should figure out how to have all ballots counted on Election Day.

Mrs. @MichelleObama I'm neither Rep nor Dem & believe I speak objectively. With all respect ma'am, when tens of millions of people are seen as (& called) evil they're not nec. inclined to unite w those calling them such. B4 outreach some Dem party self-reflection may be in order.

> Michelle Obama @MichelleObama
> Let's remember that tens of millions of people voted for the status quo, even when it meant supporting lies, hate, chaos, and division. We've got a lot of work to do to reach out to these folks in the years ahead and connect with them on what unites us.

Not mentioned in his address last night, Gov Inslee joins OR, CA governors in a travel advisory, suggested quarantine period:

Inslee issues travel advisory for Washington

Gov. Jay Inslee issued a travel advisory for Washington today, recommending a 14-day quarantine for interstate and international travel, and asks residents to stay close to home. Inslee joined California Gov. Gavin Newsom and Oregon Gov. Kate Brown in urging visitors entering their states or returning home from travel outside these states to self-quarantine to slow the spread of the virus.

COVID-19 cases have doubled in Washington over the past two weeks. This puts our state in as dangerous a position today as we were in March," Inslee said. "Limiting and reducing travel is one way to reduce further spread of the disease. I am happy to partner with California and Oregon in this effort to help protect lives up and down the West Coast."

California just surpassed a sobering threshold — one million COVID-19 cases — with no signs of the virus slowing down," said Newsom. "Increased cases are adding pressure on our hospital systems and threatening the lives of seniors, essential workers and vulnerable Californians. Travel increases the risk of spreading COVID-19 and we must all collectively increase our efforts at this time to keep the virus at bay and save lives."

"COVID-19 does not stop at state lines. As hospitals across the West are stretched to capacity, we must take steps to ensure travelers are not bringing this disease home with them," said Brown. "If you do not need to travel, you shouldn't. This will be hard, especially with Thanksgiving around the corner. But the best way to keep your family safe is to stay close to home."

In addition to urging individuals arriving from other states or countries to self-quarantine for 14 days after arrival, the states' travel advisories recommend individuals limit their interactions to their immediate household. The advisories define essential travel as travel for work and study, critical infrastructure support, economic services and supply chains, health, immediate medical care, and safety and security.

Without science or data to justify his decision, @GovInslee is extending his mandates to close gyms & restaurants into the new year. They were never fueling the surge of COVID cases. That cases continue while they're closed highlights that reality. But they'll still be punished.

Being a positive person doesn't mean you ignore reality. You actually see reality for what it is and when all seems lost, you SEE hope. It's a choice everyday.

The fact that a governor can arbitrarily shut down a state and businesses and then arbitrarily open a state without regard to science and freedom should be a concern and lesson for our future as leaders and citizens.

Consistently successful people deal in truths, understanding the laws of nature (human, physical, & economic). They don't ignore or fight these laws but rather work within them in order to improve potential outcomes... both for themselves.. and for others #success

The Texas power/water outage story is just depressing. We're the richest country in the world and one of our biggest states has gone days with major infrastructure gaps. Sometimes feels like we're becoming a country where nothing works like it's supposed to.

Congrats my friend @ShannonBream so well deserved!!

Emily Miller @emilymiller

She is too humble to say this. But @ShannonBream IS NOW A #1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER !

And it's a book about the Bible and Jesus.

Life with 3 boys over the last few months. Challenging my nursing skills 🤣🤣Deep cut to thumb (no nerve damage, but close) laceration to forehead, left broken hand, left broken arm. We're celebrating now that the cast is off... ready for a new season 💙💙💙
